City Council Chooses Digital Billboard Photo, Introduces Sidewalk Ordinance

By wstockwin2024@gmail.com

Mayor Kim Douglass called 2024's last meeting of the Colfax City Council, and his last meeting as mayor, to order on December 11 at exactly 6:00 P.M. All members of the council were present.

He moved the agenda quickly to a 5-0 approval vote on the four-item consent calendar, through the agency reports and on to two public hearings, the first being a sidewalk repair, maintenance and liability ordinance.

The item was presented by city planning consultant Kathy Pease, who described the proposed Municipal Code amendment as clarifying that sidewalk maintenance was the responsibility of property owners whose property abutted city sidewalks.

"Since 1935 California state law (California Streets and High ways Code Section 5610) has recognized the responsibility of adjacent property owners to maintain and repair sidewalks abutting or crossing their property," said Pease.

She said maintaining sidewalks is important for reducing legal liability, as well as meeting the Americans with Disabilities Act requirements. The ordinance will be complaint driven, and

NID Closing Scotts Flat, Rollins Lake Boat Ramps

By wstockwin2024@gmail.com

Nevada Irrigation District (NID) is shutting down all of its boat ramps to powered watercraft on Scott's Flat and Rollins Reservoirs until further notice.

The drastic move is being made to protect the lakes and their infrastructure from the invasive golden mussel.

NID is calling it a temporary closure following the recent discovery of the golden mussel at the Port of Stockton in the Sacramento/San Joaquin Delta. The closure will include Long Ravine, Orchard Springs and Greenhorn at Rollins, as well as the boat launches on the Cascade Shores and Scotts Flat sides.

NID also operates an ongoing aquatic invasive species prevention program to prevent the introduction of quagga and zebra mussels.

after receiving a complaint about a damaged sidewalk, the city will issue a notice to fix the problem within 60 days. If the property owner fails to make the repairs the city will do the work, then lien the owner's property for the cost.

If the property owner can demonstrate that the repair costs pose a severe financial hardship, Pease said the city could agree to allow the property owner to cover those costs via a payment schedule.

There will also be a protest process that will trigger an investigation by the city, culminating in a fact-finding letter being issued to the property owner. If still not satisfied, the property owner could appeal to the council in a formal hearing.

During the council discussion, councilmember Trinity Burruss asked if the 60-day repair requirement could be extended, and councilmember Sean Lomen suggested making it 90 days. At the end of the council discussion the proposed amendment was sent back to the planning department for changes.

The second public hearing was a review of the annual report on mitigation impact fees charged by the city. With no comment from the public or the council, the report was accepted on a 5-0 vote.

The first piece of official council business dealt with a new promotional photo of downtown Colfax that will go up on the I-80 digital billboard. The Colfax Historic Business Association held a photography contest that received numerous pictures of Colfax from community members.

Remembering Cathy Morgan

Story by Alan Shuttleworth

The tiny foothill town of Iowa Hill lost its unofficial mayor when Cathy Morgan passed on October 18, 2024.

Cathy worked the bar at the Iowa Hill Store when she first moved to Iowa Hill. She used that job to get the community together and discuss ways to improve life at "The Hill." After leaving the bar, she continued to be a community organizer and sponsored "Taco Night" at her own home. It was a potluck dinner held on a weekly schedule that she organized for decades. Of course, there was music, campfires and lots of plans to improve the entire area.

One of her biggest contributions to The Hill was her 25-year tenure as an Instructional Assistant at the Iowa Hill School. A right arm to teacher, Richard Marks, Cathy was devoted to the students and a perfect com-

Business Briefs with LindaLou Haines

You survived the December holidays, and you shopped in local stores (well, some of you did!). You are ready for a month less hectic, maybe. Time for a couple deep breaths and catching up with yourself. Let's get a haircut.

Have you tried the newest hair salon in Colfax, Morning Glo Hair Studio? It is located at 9 Depot St., #1, which is in the end suite adjacent to North Main at the flagpole.

Morning Glo has won the Colfax Best of the Best in these categories: Hair Stylist, Cosmetologist, Hair Salon, Beauty Salon, New Business and Storefront. Congratulations. Quite an accomplishment. It is owner-operator Marissa McSorley that has won all these Bests.

Marissa lives in Colfax, and she graduated from Colfax High. She has been a stylist since 1997.

When you come into her studio, you immediately feel welcomed by the light, airiness of the space.

Marissa takes appointments Tuesday through Saturday. You can call her at 916-265-8270 or check out her Instagram page, @MarissaMcSorleyHairstylist.

Earlier I mentioned the Auburn Journal's Best of the Best annual survey that creates the list on which Morning Glo is named in six categories.

Now I am going to share with you some of the other Colfax businesses on the Best of the Best list with which I do business: Colfax Smog & Auto Repair, Todd; Dine 'N Dash Restaurant & Bar; Colfax Thrift; Paloma Yoga; Blooming Mountain Flowers; Mar-Val's Sierra Market; Snapdragon Provisions; Colfax Farm & Country; Colfax Drug Company; Main Street Pizza; Let Life Fly.

Based on my experience with these businesses, I recommend them. So, give them a try, if you haven't already.

Reminder: Mane Tamer Salon & Calico Palace Boutique closed at the end of last month. Owner Beth Miller has been in that location on Railroad St at Oak St for over 40 years. It is the end of an era.

As of this date at the end of December, no one has expressed interest in buying the business. Call Beth for more information, 530-346-2041 or 530-401-1662.

If you have Colfax City business news, please email me at LindaLouHaines14@gmail.com.

Lions Surprise Shuttleworth With Melvin Jones Fellowship Award

Colfax Connections' ace photographer Alan Shuttleworth was surprised at the recent Lions Holiday Dinner when he was called up to receive the club's Melvin Jones Fellowship Award for Dedicated Humanitarian Services. Jones was the founder of Lions International.

Alan said that he was humbled because the award usually goes to past presidents, a position he's never held.

Lions Clubs International recognizes outstanding individuals by bestowing on them an award that is named for its founder, Melvin Jones. This Fellowship Award is the highest form of recognition and embodies humanitarian ideas consistent with the nature and purpose of Lionism.

The recipient of this award becomes a model because of the exemplary service to his club and the community for which it serves. Previous Melvin Jones Fellowship Award recipients meet each year to discuss potential award recipients.

Often an award is not granted each year. It is instead granted only if there is a Lion who earned it. This decision is made by previous award recipients only. The Officers, Board, and other Lions do not weigh in on this decision.

munity/teacher match for her role. Cathy also served as the school's custodian. Normal house-keeping plus maintenance of the school's complex photovoltaic and generator systems soon became her forte.

When the school shuttered in 2010 due to low enrollment, Cathy continued similar school maintenance duties in exchange for the School District permitting the building to be used for a wide variety of community-wide meetings.

When the local historic cemetery needed repairs or housekeeping, Cathy organized the town's residents to get the job done.

A recent dedication at the cemetery, and a celebration at the local store were attended by over 60 friends and family members. The huge turnout was a testimonial to Cathy's devotion to her family, her friends and her entire community. She will be sorely missed by all.

ing's gym, and the cost of the project, triggered a sewer lateral inspection because it exceeded the $20,000 limit mandated by City Municipal Code 13.08.520. That brought SVC before the council to ask that the inspection be waived to avoid the additional costs of the permit fee ($407.00) and the cost of a Closed Circuit Television inspection.

After a brief discussion where possible changes to the ordinance were mentioned, the council voted unanimously to grant SVC's request and waive the sewer lateral inspection. The meeting's last bit of official business included the swearing in of council members Caroline McCully and Larry Hillberg, and new city attorney Conor Hawkins.

That was followed with annual rotation of council officers, making Sean Lomen the city mayor for 2025, and Caroline McCully the new year's mayor pro tem on unanimous votes.

Chamber of Commerce Notes and Events

"With the new day comes new strengths and new thoughts" - Eleanor Roosevelt

The New Year is a time of new beginnings and contemplation as we look back on the struggles and triumphs of the previous year.

We at the Chamber are thankful for our community and all of the support we have seen at the events this last year.

We hosted our second annual Oktoberfest, had a wet, but successful, Winterfest and joined the celebrations of Railroad Days and Third of July.

As a community, we are stronger together.

We paused Coffee and Conversations in December and January but we will be meeting again starting February 6, 2024 at 8:00 a.m. at The Wrecking Crew.

We welcome everyone to join us as our speaker, Mark Hall from Senior's First, discusses the purpose of the organization in hiring drivers to assist seniors get to the places they need to go, meals and nutrition support, living placement and information and assistance.

We wish each of you a Happy New Year and look forward to what 2025 will bring in for our community!
